

Dana Kroos, The Shore (2016).

Dana Kroos is a creative writer, visual artist, and instructor. Her work explores the importance of environments and communities that can at once be empowering and alienating. She received an MFA in ceramics from the Rhode Island School of Design and a MA in studio art from Purdue University. Visit danakroos.com.

ONCE upon a time, there lived a very rich merchant. He had a beautiful house, surrounded by gardens full of flowers and rare birds. He had four sons and three daughters, who had everything for which they could possibly wish. The two eldest daughters, Miranda and Rosina, were very vain and lazy, and were fond of silk and satin dresses and jewels. The youngest daughter was her father's pet; she was so lovely that she was loved by all who came near her.

ISLAND 5kr
ISLAND 2kr
FOLD FOR FACING
PLIURE POUR LA PARENTHURE
DOBLEZ PARA LA VISTA

...S OF A FEATHER
... feather flock together
... will pigs and sheep
... will have their
... I have mine

THREE CHILDREN ON THE ICE
THE ICE

Three children sliding on the ice
Up on a summer's day,
As it fell out, they all fell in,
The rest they ran away.

Oh, had these children been at school,
Or sliding on dry ground,
Ten thousand pounds to the penny
They had not then been drowned.

O ye parents who have children dear,
And ye, too, who have none,
If you would keep them safe at home,
Pray keep them safe at home.

Dana Kroos, The Fish (2016).

Dana Kroos is a creative writer, visual artist, and instructor. Her work explores the importance of environments and communities that can at once be empowering and alienating. She received an MFA in ceramics from the Rhode Island School of Design and a MA in studio art from Purdue University. Visit danakroos.com.