

Guilherme Bergamini, Old Havana (2011)

Guilherme Bergamini, a Brazilian reporter and visual artist, has for over two decades developed projects that dialogue between memory and social-political criticism. He believes in photography as the aesthetic potential and transforming agent of society. He has won awards in national and international competitions, and exhibited in twenty-two countries. Visit guilhermebergamini.com.